PASSIONATE TECHNOLOGIST

I am an enthusiastic full-stack web developer and a future machine learning scientist from Kenya, I have undergone the intensive Moringa program as well as pursuing to acquire a degree in Computer Science. Using my adeptness in Flask, Python, PostgreSQL, React, Javascript, HTML, and CSS I lend to the table innovative solutions soliciting the essence of creativity & tech. I received online certificates from Datacamp and Amazon for Machine Learning and Cloud Computing proving that I am interested in learning. I cannot wait to create projects that make a difference in education, healthcare and so much more and encourage others to take their inspiration and run with it.
